My dear Cousin

I again take up my pen to write you a line or two, trusting it will find you in good health - but I still remain weak - and I fear I shall for some time to come - Many thanks for the News Papers - you send me - in which I take great delight - The Weather here is fine but nights are cold - I trust in God that all Nations will beat Peace soon - and that it will remain so for some long years - You wish to know what my dear babe is call'd - She was born on the 15th of April - & was Baptized on the 13th May - her Name is Eliza Victoria. I have now eight children living - & well. I hope your dear Mother was well the last time you heard from her. Please to give her my most kind love when you write her next - I have not heard from my Mother or Brother since January last - I am looking out every Post - and can't think the reason - I must conclude this scrawl now and remain my dear Cousin

Yours most affectionately Cousin

Mary Smerdon.

As please to give my most kind love to all your family.

My dear Walter

Thanks for your letter which I have just received. I wish with all my heart we could meet again once more, but the fates seem against it. I have been married now nearly nine years, & you have never been introduced to my wife - & I think it must be 14 or 15 years since I first set eyes on you. However I won't moralize about the matter but still hope even against hope. Are you not grown old & grey? I am. When you go down to the Westward the old Patriarch of the Island will be much pleased to see you; tho' you will find him a good deal altered; very feeble & forgetful. I hope myself to go down to him for a few days either at the end of next month, or the beginning of September; as I do not think it right to be so long without seeing him - as has been lately the case. He went with him during the month of May last. So you went to the Exhibition & saw my children's effigies. We have not seen the picture since it was finished but were pleased with the likeness - & very much so with the painter, who spent a week with us while engaged about them. About the Carrington Redipree, I fear the Chronicle of our branch of the family perished with poor dear Robert, who is the only one I ever heard speak on the subject, & who once promised to give me some insight into it. There must I think have been & perhaps now are, among his papers some notices of the family. He considered them to come from the branch at Spouton. All I know of them is that our great-grandfather lived in London - was I believe a watchmaker of eminence, & an officer of the City trained Bands. A picture of him in uniform is or was at Topsham, dignified by the title of the "Old General". This puts me in mind that I sent to Robert shortly before his death the pictures by Nicolson of our grandfathers & grandmothers. I believe he put them into Tucker's hands to be repaired & cleaned. What is become of them? Do you know? Otherwise it may be worth while to enquire when you go into Devonshire. I should be sorry they were lost! Think of it. To return to our Great Grandfather. He married the sister of Bishop Lavington: & I think the Chancellor was his only child - at least I never heard any other speak of any other. He was Rector of Clayworth in Nottinghamshire & came into the West with the Bishop. Whether he had the living of Charming previously to his residing at Clayworth I don't know - but I have heard my mother say he was Curate at Keet. This is the only one of Endace's list of whom I can give any information. I should be very proud to make out, if I could, any claim of kindred to N.T. Carrington, for as a Poet & a Man of talent he would do honour to any family. His "Dartmoor" independent of its deep interest to a Devonshire man, is among the sweetest lays of our language. The Vicar of Berkeley was the Inventor of a patent medicine in which most probably from sympathy with the name "Carrington's life pills" my poor mother had unbounded confidence. Trusting we shall meet again some day or other & with all our loves, I remain

My dear Walter Every Yours C. Ley."

My dearest Eury

Many thanks for your kind letter of the 9th and am glad to find that the Honey is arrived safe - & hope it will turn out well. You must not fancy that I meant you should write - I well know your time is & must be taken up - in fact I did not know to whom the news about Elizth came to - and w^ont I give it to Flora? who must have known all about it - and twice did I dine with her and not a word said about it. I shall be anxiously looking out for Edw^d's dispatches after his safe arrival - which I hope he is now getting pretty near the Coast. Lord Chandos returned safe & sound yesterday - after more than three months Cruise - which he seems to have enjoyed very much - I have caught a cold - which is bothering - but hope will soon run off. Perhaps your Mother's intentions may alter when the plans are settled - as to selling the property &c. As to the payment for the Honey - I promise not to arrest you - till due notice after my return to Town. Old Sidrad is getting on - but slowly - I fear he does not walk as far as he ought - He has not reached Exeter st yet. What a shame was 23rd Nov^r I find some Faushawe names. Marriages & Births. Harriet Wootton has a girl whose name I have not yet been able to get. I suppose Julia is on her return home - much to your satisfaction. I rec^d a nice letter from Lalla - but none to Julia & wee pet - remembrance to Mr H - Ever dearest Eury your affectionate ancient niece Nettie."
